

NOTABLE GROUP OF MEN AND WOMEN HONOR C. R. BISHOP

It was a remarkable group of men that met yesterday afternoon on the roof garden of the Young Hotel to commemorate the ninetieth birthday of Hon. Charles R. Bishop, now a resident of California. A glance over the group of friends and former associates of the aged capitalist and philanthropist showed many men and women identified with the growth and progress of the islands and whose own names are commemorated by their public work and benefactions.

The Hon. A. S. Hartwell, former chief justice of the territory presided at the meeting yesterday; on motion by Prof. M. M. Scott, who made a brief address congratulating Mr. Bishop on a long life well spent.

Then one after another of those who knew Mr. Bishop or have known intimately of his work arose and spoke in terms of sincere praise and admiration of his public-spirited deeds. Gen. Hartwell declared that Mr. Bishop had been a true friend to the islands for many long years and that Hawaii was fortunate in having had him.

The following resolution was offered by F. A. Schaefer and seconded by P. C. Jones:

Be It Resolved, That the following letter, signed by the chairman and secretary of this meeting, be forwarded to the Honorable Charles R. Bishop, as the expression of the sentiments of those present toward Mr. Bishop on this the ninetieth anniversary of his birth:

"Honorable Charles R. Bishop, "Dear Sir:—We take great pleasure in reminding ourselves on the occasion of the ninetieth anniversary of your birth, of the good fortune which has come to us and to Hawaii through the circumstances which led you, while still a young man, to make your home in these islands. Your many years spent here engaged in business and yet giving much time and attention to the causes of good government, good citizenship, education and philanthropy, have been fruitful in helpful and positive influences upon the Hawaiian community, and have had much to do with its material and moral progress and the establishment of a lofty public sentiment.

"We heartily and sincerely congratulate you upon your birthday—another milestone in a long life of usefulness—and we pray that good health and peace and happiness may ever follow you."

The resolution was mailed yesterday.

Mr. Jones then spoke upon phases of Mr. Bishop's life from the standpoint of one who has known him for more than fifty years. He told of his great work for education and for Oahu College particularly, giving his hearers proof of what he said by telling them of large benefactions to the college, the Maunaloa school on Maui, St. Andrew's Priory, Kohala girls' school and others.

W. R. Castle dwelt on Mr. Bishop's work for the public schools system, and Judge Sanford B. Dole spoke of Mr. Bishop's long service in general public matters. He declared that Mr. Bishop had greatly advanced Hawaiian civilization.

Miss Ida Pope, principal of the Kamehameha school for girls, which was established by Mr. Bishop's wife, read a paper on the educational facilities made possible through Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, and the Rev. H. H. Parker, pastor of Kawaiahao church, told of Mr. Bishop's religious activities.

Among the notable group of men and women who attended the meeting were:

cial returns, it is predicted that the government marketing division will have all of the work it can handle. In the beginning, a nominal charge of two cents per bunch is to be made for inspection and shipping, but when the work grows, it is believed this can be cut to less than two cents.

Superintendent Starrett is very much interested in developing the small farming possibilities of the islands through the shipping bureau, and is giving his personal attention to seeing that the shipping is done right.

LUMBER YARD IS MENACE

That Allen & Robinson's lumber yard near the Oceanic dock is a menace to government property along the waterfront and that the matter should be attended to immediately was the consensus of opinion expressed by the harbor commissioners at their meeting this morning.

The matter was brought up by Harbormaster Foster in a report in which he stated that the lumber was piled right up to Fort street and down to the dock. Alongside a big pile of shingles he had noticed a crate full of loose paper and he considered the whole thing dangerous.

After serving the government faithfully and continuously for the last thirty-four years, Samuel McKeague, keeper of the government kerosene warehouse, passed away at his home on Lunalilo street this morning at 4 o'clock, at the age of sixty-four years and five months. He was one of the well known old-timers, and generally liked by the Hawaiians for his generous disposition.

After having been sent back and forth between the Board of Agriculture and the Governor time after time, the regulations for the quarantining of dogs arriving in the Territory was finally passed by the board at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The regulations now await the Governor's signature, when they will be advertised and put in force.

REMEDIES FOR RHEUMATISM

Are Many but the Important Thing Is to Enrich the Blood and Cleanse the System of Rheumatic Poison.

There are many remedies for rheumatism. Most of them are considered successful if they relieve the pain and stiffness. That means a temporary suppression of the symptoms while the disease remains in the blood to appear again on the next rainy day. Mrs. J. W. Rapp, of R. F. D. No. 1, South Omaha, Neb., says: "Several years ago I was a sufferer from rheumatism which followed a general run-down condition and exposure to wet and dampness. The pains started in my hands, which had a sort of prickling sensation like needles were being thrust into them. As the disease grew worse the joints of my fingers became affected. They were swollen and were so painful that I could hardly bear it. Gradually the disease began to affect my limbs in the same manner. They became terribly swollen and I had to give up my work. The pains then spread all over my body and were sharp and shooting. They would suddenly shift from one part of the body to another but fortunately did not seem to affect my heart. For three months I was propped up in a chair and had to be waited on. I could not get any sleep and was losing flesh all the time. The doctor treated me a long time but did not give much relief as the pains were as severe as ever when I quit taking his medicine. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were brought to my notice while reading a booklet and I made up my mind to give them a trial. A wonderful change came over me as soon as I commenced using the pills. They absolutely cured me from the terrible rheumatic pains and I have never had them since. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to many persons and always explain that they cannot help giving benefit as they are a blood medicine."

A new edition of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free on request to anyone interested. Write for it today.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
